DAY OF NATIVITY UNKNOWN

World Has Only Tradition to Rely Upon as to Date of the Birth of Christ.

The traditional 25th of December as the date of the birth of the Savior has no historical authority beyond the fourth century, when the Christmas festival was introduced first in Rome (A. D. 300), on the basis of several Roman festivals (the Saturnalia, Sigil-laria, Juvenalia, Brumalia, or Dies natalis Invicti Solis), which were held in the latter part of December, in commemoration of the golden age of Il-lery and equality, and in honor of the sun, who in the winter solstice is, as it were, born anew, and begins his con- quering march. The only indication of the season of Christ's birth is the fact that the shepherds were watching their flocks in the field at the time (Luke 11:8), and this fact points to any other season rather than winter, and is, therefore, not favorable to the traditional date. Besides, the ancient tradition is of no account here, as it varied down to the fourth century. Clement of Alexandria relates that some regarded the 25th, Pachon (i. e., May 20), others the 24th or 25th, Phar-muthi (April 19 or 20), as the day of Nativity.

As to modern research, the only point on which divines generally agree is that Christ was not born on Christ-mas day, while numerous learned au-thorities put the birth on almost every date of the year.

HILL PUZZLE TO GEOLOGISTS

Stone Columns on Eminence Near Pa-chuca, in Mexico, Out of Keeping With Other Formations.

A very remarkable geological freak in Mexico is a mountain situated near Pachuca which presents the appear-ance at a distance of being covered with spikes. The sides of the moun-tain are closely studded with stone col-umns or palisades. These columns are five to twelve feet long and as large round as an average man's body. It is a remarkable uplift of nature which has the appearance, however, of being the handiwork of human beings. One side of the mountain is almost per-pendicular and the stone columns pro-trude from the surface at right angles, forming an impressive picture.

Pachuca is one of the most noted mining districts in Mexico, and it is said by geologists that this remark-able spiked mountain is out of keeping with the remainder of the formation of the mineralized region. The stone is as hard as flint and has withstood the elements of ages. The spikes form a natural battlement that makes the mountain appear from a distance like an ancient fort. The mines of the Pachuca district are situated not far from this wonderful freak of nature, but the formation encountered in their respective underground workings is of an entirely different kind from that of the palisades.

How Tornado Originates.

The tornado of the Western plains is identical in formation with the sand-whirl. The sun beats fiercely on a lit-tle area—say ten square miles of bar-ren prairie—and as a result the air next the earth becomes very hot, perhaps 120 degrees, and the mass is constantly increasing in volume. Above the warm air is a stratum perhaps 20 de-grees colder.

By and by a passageway is made, the hot air begins to ascend and the cold upper air, pressing downward, forces the lighter air through a chan-nel thus formed. It begins to whirl, it increases in velocity, a surface cur-rent forces it along, and the tornado starts on its destructive journey.

The terrific cyclone originates in much the same way, only differing in extent. The most violent cyclones or-linate in tropical latitudes, in the At-lantic ocean, to the north and east of West Indian islands and in the Pacific, in the China sea and in the neighbor-hood of the Philippine islands.

The reason they are so destructive is because they are carried such great distances by extraneous influences.

Sheep Has Wooden Leg.

Charles Krauter, living near Bucyrus, O., had a lamb get tangled up in a fence and injure its leg. The veterinary told him the leg had to come off. Krauter did not want to lose the lamb, so minus the leg he nursed it back to health and then fixed up a peg leg for it.

Now the lamb has grown to be a sheep and still stamps around on the wooden leg. Occasionally the wooden member becomes loose and falls off, and the sheep then hobbles over to a soft spot and waits until some one comes along to fasten the leg on again.

The wooden leg doesn't interfere with the sheep growing wool, Mr. Krauter says, and wool is wool now-adays.

Proud Record of Marines.

As the first battle of the American navy was fought and won by the marines, so, down through the years of the Revolutionary war, we find the marines at the forefront when diffi-cult work was to be done. In fact there were but few expeditions in which they did not figure in more or less strength. Thus Lieutenant Walling-ford of the marines died at the head of his men under John Paul Jones in the battle between the Bonhomme and the Drake; and in the classic fight be-tween the Bon Homme Richard under Paul Jones and the Scipio, the marines lost 20 out of 137 men.

EXPLAINS LAUGH OF BABIES

We Come Into This World of Sorrows
With a Mysterious Sense of Humor.

The human love of nonsense is a di-vine mystery. We have often heard pessimists declare that we come into the world weeping. It is true, I think, to say that we come into it laughing. For laughter in a baby seems to be its first conscious apprehension of some-thing outside its small needs and pains. It may cry merely because a pin is sticking into it, but it laughs because already it sees something that makes it laugh. It knows not why, something that catches the eye or ear and seems irresistibly funny to it.

There is nothing more mysterious than a baby's sense of humor. It fre-quently loses it as it grows up, together with the other trailing clouds of glory, but most babies are born with it. To satisfy its nursery rhymes were in-vented, and to satisfy the same instinct in grown people "The Hunting of the Snark," that incomparable classic, came into being, and Caverly and Gil-bert and Lear stood on their heads, so to speak, and performed such verbal antics before high heaven as must have made the very angels laugh.

When the Owl and the Pussy Cat, having dined on mice and slices of onion, "landed in land, on the edge of the sand," "danced by the light of the moon," there is something which, as Stevenson was fond of saying, delights the great heart of man. But, of course, with these modern artists of nonsense there is usually a deliberate attempt at the grotesque and the absurd. We know why we are laughing, but with the old-fashioned rhymes of which I am chiefly thinking, we laugh—for, for that matter, cry, perhaps—without having any reason to give.—Richard Le Gallienne, in Harper's Magazine.

WHERE TO LOOK FOR WIFE

Seek Her in Butcher's Shop, Says This Writer, and Mark Just How She Eats.

A good housewife will look at least two square meals ahead of her nose. The modern system of marketing dur-ing the high cost regime is such a fine art that a youth contemplating matrimony should lie to the market place for selecting a bride. My boy, Zim advises in Cartoons Magazine, when you see a maiden plucking, smelling and pricing a soup bone, you may rely on her sense of economy, for she is looking forward not less than two meals. The soup bone, when cooked, is merely food in the rough or primi-tive state. Its choicest by-products are realized after bouillon stage. Thereafter comes goulash, the cro-quettes and the succulent hash. By all means avoid the girl who orders choice cuts of porterhouse or English mutton chops. She will not make a good help-mate. But the girl who selects the chuck or neck pieces or the tail end of a ham bone, and renders them into dainty, palatable dishes is the one you want. So take my advice and seek the market place when you feel that you have had your fill of bachelor loneli-ness and wish a taste of wedlock. Fol-low such a girl around until you are perfectly satisfied, then nail her.

Way to Success.

Power is the goal of every worthy ambition and only weakness comes from imitation or dependence on others, says a writer in Success. Power is self-developed, self-generated. We cannot increase the strength of our muscles by sitting in a gymnasium and letting another exercise for us.

Nothing else so destroys the power to stand alone as the habit of leaning upon others. If you lean you never will be strong or original. Stand alone or bury your ambition to be somebody in the world.

The man who tries to give his chil-dren a start in the world so that they will not have so hard a time as he had is unknowingly bringing disaster upon them. What he calls giving them a start probably will give them a set-back in the world. Young people need all the motive power they can get. They are naturally learners, imitators, copiers, and it is easy for them to de-velop into echoes or imitations. They will not walk alone while you furnish crutches; they will lean upon you just as long as you will let them.

One of the greatest delusions that a human being could ever have is that he is permanently benefited by contin-ued assistance from others.

Miners Live Long.

It is an extraordinary fact that even when deaths from accident are includ-ed, the rate of mortality among miners of Great Britain is materially lower than that among any other big class of labor, except agriculturists, and ap-proximately lower than the average rate of mortality among males. This fact was discovered by Doctor Statham, while acting as superintendent of sta-tistics in the office of the registrar gen-eral. Doctor Statham points out that while the risk of fatal accidents among the coal miners is much greater than among other males generally, their risk of death by disease is much lower, being 16.6 per cent less than an occu-pied males, and 22.2 per cent less than that of all males. While coal miners appear to suffer more than the aver-age mortality from bronchitis, they show marked immunity from consump-tion, their mortality from that disease being less than half the average. From diseases of the nervous system the mortality is 18 per cent lower; from disease of the liver, 19 per cent lower than among all males.

GOOD ROADS IN CONNECTICUT

State Superintendent of Repairs Di-rects All Work Through Main-tenance Organization.

(By E. B. HOUSE, Colorado Agricultural College, Fort Collins, Colo.) Connecticut places the maintenance of her roads under an officer known as the superintendent of repairs. The state is divided into ten districts. Each district is under the control of a supervisor of repairs, who is lo-cated near the center of his district. Each district is divided into sections, and each section is in charge of a foreman. Under ordinary conditions these foremen work singly and indepen-dently.

If a road is in bad shape, ten or fifteen men are sent to work on it, and are transferred from place to place; put under one foreman for a few days, and then transferred to an-other section in order that the work may be properly done.

COMPANY TAKES OVER ROAD

Virginia Legislature Grants Charter to Private Concern to Operate Old Highway.

The legislature of Virginia has granted a charter to an association known as the Warrenton and Fairfax Turnpike company, Inc., which will take over the old Alexandria-Warren-ton pike, to grade and resurface the road and operate it as a toll road until the state wishes to take it back. The charter states that when the state does take it back it must pay the stockholders the cost of the road, with interest, minus dividends.

IMPROVEMENT BY ROAD DRAG

Farmer Can Be Convinced of Effective-ness by Use of Implement After Each Rain.

If you are not one of the fortunate ones with a good macadam or even concrete road in front of your place, you can make a good road of it if drainage has been attended to by the use of the road drag. Just try it after each rain, on the stretch of road lead-ing from your gateway toward town the length of your holdings; you will not only be surprised and gratified with the improvement, but you may be encouraging your neighbor just be-yond to do likewise.

OUTLINES GOOD ROADS PLAN

Opening of Forty-Mile Boulevard in Canada First Step in System of Improved Highways.

The new concrete highway between Toronto and Hamilton, Ontario, was opened recently. The premier of Ontario announced at the opening that the 40-mile boulevard between the two cities was only the first step in a great system of improved highways through-out the whole of Ontario. Plans have been made for this work, but it will not be undertaken until the actual end of the war is in sight.

GOOD ROADS ARE ESSENTIAL

Better Highways Must Be Secured to Make It Possible to Consolidate the Schools.

Back of the whole country school problem looms the road question. You can't have better schools without bet-ter roads. Better roads must be se-cured to make it possible to centralize and consolidate the schools. Where communities enjoy the advantages of good roads, commodious buildings have been provided, more competent teach-ers have been employed and modern facilities for teaching have been sup-plied at a minimum cost.

BOND INVESTORS INCREASE BECAUSE OF LIBERTY BONDS

Sixteen Millions Expected to Partici-pate in Third Liberty Loan.

More than 15,000,000 persons are ex-pected to subscribe to the Third Lib-erty Loan. Four million subscribed to the first issue and about 11,000,000 to the second loan.

Sixteen million buttons for subscrib-ers have been ordered by treasury of-ficials for the Third Liberty Loan. The system of honor rolls in each munici-pality, community or business organi-zation, bearing the names of subscrib-ers, and of honor flags, to be given to each city exceeding its quota, is ex-pected to stimulate the number of sub-scriptions. This plan will disclose who subscribes and who refuses to buy.

Extensive preparations have been made for advertising the Third Lib-erty Bond campaign. Requests have been received from hundreds of news-papers publishing Sunday editions for 10,000,000 inserts showing the honor flag in colors to be distributed April 7. Two hundred foreign-language newspapers have requested sup-ples of poster supplements.

A special train carrying French war relics, accompanied by Liberty Loan speakers and wounded French sol-diers, will travel through the South and Southwest and perhaps elsewhere. The relics, which include some of the small guns, German helmets and other trophies and Red Cross exhibits, recently were sent to the United States by the French government to assist in the bond campaign. The train will be sent through the St. Louis, Dallas and Atlantic federal reserve districts, starting April 6.

A LIBERTY LOAN PRAYER

St. Louis Minister Composes Appeal on Eve of His De-parture For France.

Less than a week before he sailed for France in the service of the Y. M. C. A., Rev. E. T. Clark, Litt. D., former minister of the Shaw Avenue Methodist Episcopal Church, South, and former secretary of the St. Louis Ministerial association, prepared the fol-lowing prayer for the Third Liberty Loan for use on Liberty Sunday, April 7th:

"Oh God, who dost guide the tread of the nation, born to serve mankind with an exalted unselfishness, bless all our people and their representa-tives in authority.

"In this time of crisis and judgment, inspire us to think, act and serve together in the common cause of a victorious righteousness. Touch our souls with a high sense of patriotic sacrifice. Concentrate our means as well as our men.

"Bless, we beseech Thee, the Third Liberty Loan with the benediction of Thy benignant favor. May no act or word from us impede its successful will. And arouse our enthusi-asm to see it through to a most successful conclusion. Amen."

BUSINESS CONCERNS TACED

Credit Men Keep Uncle Sam Posted on Ability to Buy.

Liberty Bond slackers among busi-ness houses throughout the nation are being revealed by credit men whose duty it is to analyze the financial statements of firms in all classes of trade.

Preliminary investigations of expert credit men in checking up the finan-cial statements of many concerns in various businesses in all parts of the United States find that the percentage of Liberty Bonds of the first and second issues among their assets was startlingly small.

It has been suggested that banks and institutions would be justified in bring-ing to the attention of their custom-ers, particularly those who are bor-owers, the necessity for these patri-otic investments being made in rea-sonable proportions.

Credit men have undertaken to bring to the attention of the public the im-portance of many business houses in backing the government in its pros-ecution of the war. The government is in the war business not only to de-stroy Prussian autocracy but every vestige of disloyalty and opposition to the battle for world liberty.

It is clear that the people of Eng-land, of food and that the man power of the nation is wanting.

A member of the archbishop's party said the distinguished Britons were surprised and delighted with the en-thusiasm of the American people to support the war. He said Americans have come to a realization of what the threat of German domination means to the world, and especially to America. He explained that many persons in Great Britain were slow to realize the necessity for shedding their blood upon the battlefields of France to halt the Hun.

GREATER than the Metropolitan Opera House; greater than Covent Garden, where the royalty of England is entertained; greater than La Scala at Milan, the Grand Opera House of Paris, and the Royal Opera of Berlin; greater in fact than all the opera houses and places of entertainment in the world, is the seventh floor of Building No. 5—the centre of a city in itself formed by the modern structures of steel and concrete that house the giant industry of the Victor and Victor-Victrola.

To this building in the city of Camden, just across the historic Delaware River from the city of Philadelphia, comes a never-ending procession of the very greatest artists in the whole world. Today it may be Caruso or Amato, and tomorrow it may be Melba, or Tetrazzini, or Schumann-Heink, or Farrar; or it may be several of them assembling to unite in making a masterpiece like the "Sextette from Lucia." Or it may be Paderewski, or Kubelik, or Elman, or Harry Lauder, or Blanche Ring; and then again it might be Sousa and his band, or Victor Herbert and his orchestra.

But whoever it is or whatever the organization, rest assured that within the four walls of this build-ing is heard, day in and day out, year in and year out, music in all its forms such as no other place on earth has ever heard.

And unlike music that is heard in any other place, which is only a momentary pleasure ending with its rendition, Victor music lives forever. From its beginning in Building No. 5, it goes through the various processes necessary to its perpetuation and eventually leaves the shipping department (Buildings Nos. 9 and 10) to be heard again and again in hundreds of thousands of homes, just as it is heard in the sacred precincts of the recording room on the seventh floor of Building No. 5.

You can hear some of this exquisite music today. Come in and we'll gladly play your favorite selections, Victrolas $10 to $100. Victor-Victrolas $15 to $500. Terms to suit your convenience.

We cannot do as we should like to do at this distance, but we can oversubscribe the Liberty Loan.

Those who are heart and soul in the cause of defeating autocracy have little trouble in finding means of helping.

Buy Liberty bonds, obey the laws be frugal and cheerful and listen to no seditious talk. This may one's days be long in the land.

It cannot be too often reiterated that anything worth saying in these perilous times can be said in plain English. Those who don't understand our language cannot well understand our needs.

Any one who wishes to make peace with German militarism should study the interesting example of Russia, which, slowly recovering consciousness after the knockout blow administered in the name of peace, is looking around for a brick to throw at the Kaiser.

No, indeed, flustered patriot, there is no complaint about "partial payment" of the administration—what the complaint is against is progerman inspired criticism of American efforts in the war, subtly disguised as "reports on the war department."

The Royal Goat.

I would not think it too surprising to hear the Kaiser's tired of kaising. The crimes of all his cultured nation, the sins of all his generation, and every bloody deed infernal of every general and colonel, are charged against the reigning Billy, which is enough to drive him silly. No other monarch's so berated, no other king's so cursed and hated. When he in times of peace was kaising, he gave himself much advertising as Lord of War, with first of metal, a sort of scrapping Captain Kettle. He tried to pose as Mars incarnate, and now he pays and matters, "dammit!" He may in truth be quite a rabbit, but since he got us in the habit of "kaising" he is blood-shed's booster, a crowd-pleaser and a fighting rooster, we charge to him the misdeeds of warriors and sub-marines. Some correspondents say that Billy has long had feet extremely chilly; he hates to see his men go further with their red carnival of murder. However that be, the blame he shoulders, and with until he dies and molder. The cry of execution rises, however modestly he kaises. Before our eyes he's largely balkin', in photographs, as Mars and Vulcan.

BRITON'S HIGHEST PRELATE PLEADS IN LOAN'S BEHALF

ARCHBISHOP OF YORK TELLS OF ALLIES' NEEDS AND AMERICA'S ABILITY TO HELP.

MONEY AND FOOD WANTED

Dollars Are Only Bullets That Never Miss Mark, He Says in Urging a Vigorous Loan Campaign.

By Dr. Cosmo Gordon Lang, The Archbishop of York and Primate of England.

"Come to England and France quickly with money, ships and food. There is a terrible strain upon my countrymen in the trenches. We are not whining and asking for sympathy, but you will be cheering us to new hope, if we know that all the power and resources of your country will be given to the future of civilization."

"You cannot send as many men as you wish, but you can send other things. Send money. Where men cannot go, money can. The ocean cannot stop it. Your dollars are the only bullets that will never miss their mark. You are going to have a great Liberty Loan soon. Put all the vigor into it that you can. Don't delay. We are asking you as brothers and partners, to come and help us. Every man, woman and child can help in this fight to free the world from the menace of German domination."

"We have to settle whether the spirit of irresponsible autocracy or the spirit of freedom is to prevail among the nations of the world. So vast and fundamental an issue naturally draws all the free nations of the world together. It must be settled now and forever, cost what it may. The world must decide whether it will submit to the domination of a spirit which, if it were to prevail, would plunge the nations of the world into a long, restless career of military rivalry. On such an issue there can be no such thing as compromise. We must be worthy of our task. We must recover for the world the atmosphere of peace."

Following his address at a banquet given by the St. Louis Chamber of Commerce, the Archbishop of York authorized the above message to the American people.

His Grace, the Most Rev. Dr. Cosmo Gordon Lang, Archbishop of York and Primate of England, is the highest prelate in the Church of England save one. The Archbishop of Canterbury, Primate of All England, is the ranking archbishop of the Church of England. The office of Primate of England was created in the year A. D. 597. This ancient and honorable office and title has been held by many distinguished prelates. Dr. Lang is the ninety-eighth Archbishop of York and Primate of England. The office of Primate of All England was created in the year A. D. 597.

The difference between the office of Primate of All England and the Primate of England is slight. Centuries ago, to keep peace between two archbishops and primates, the added words "of all" to the title of the Primate of England solved the problem. The Archbishop of York not only is one of the heads of the Church of England, but is a member of the House of Lords. A member of the House of Lords owes no allegiance to any political party and therefore his actions as a statesman are not curbed or influenced. He represents the government and the people with equal interest and frequently fights the battles in Parliament of the laboring classes.

Dr. Lang is a Scotchman, the son of a Presbyterian minister, but he joined the Church of England early in life and while a youth began to study for the ministry. He rose from the rectorship of a small church when yet a young man and before he had attained the age of 40 was named Archbishop of York and Primate of England. He soon distinguished himself not only as a prelate but as a fearless and brilliant statesman and champion of the people in the House of Lords.

The Archbishop has visited many cities in the United States recently, where he delivered addresses before chambers of commerce and other civic organizations. He brings not only a message of brotherhood and appreciation from Great Britain, but he emphasizes the need for undivided support of the government of the United States by the people if the war is to be won. He pleads for a speeding up of shipbuilding, of money raising and of troop mobilization. Dr. Lang makes

As the war progresses, there is a widening and deepening interest manifest among all our people, who are now appealing "What Can I Do?" And just this spirit which will win the war—for us or our adversaries.

This is Koark's measure polished, cheapest and best.

PARTIAL PAYMENT PLAN FOR LIBERTY LOAN IS POPULAR

WAGE EARNERS MAY OBTAIN BONDS AND PAY IN WEEKLY INSTALLMENTS.

THE BANKS AGREE ON FORM

City Workers May Pay Weekly, While in Rural Communities Systems Adapted to Needs Are Being Developed.

The government "partial payment" plan is being adopted by many of the cities and towns throughout the Eighth Federal Reserve District for handling the Third Liberty Loan, which starts April 6. Committees have been appointed in several cities to work out details in connection with the plan. It is thought that no form of subscriptions to be used in the sale of the bonds will reach anything like the aggregate number of subscribers who will take advantage of this method of purchasing.

In St. Louis a committee of bankers has been active shaping arrangements so that purchasers of these bonds will have the privilege of buying them on weekly installments.

F. O. Watts, president Third National Bank of St. Louis and chairman of the Metropolitan Committee of the Liberty Loan Organization for the Eighth Federal Reserve District, is highly enthusiastic over the plan.

During the previous loan, Mr. Watts said, there were approximately 38,000 subscriptions in St. Louis which were taken on a weekly installment plan, but in his opinion that city ought to have 138,000 subscribers to the weekly payment plan. That is the goal set by the present committee for the Third Liberty Loan Bond issue. Of the 47 banks in St. Louis, 45 have signed up to co-operate in pushing the weekly payment subscriptions, and a uniform contract to govern such subscriptions, approved by the St. Louis Clearing House Association, as well as the banks themselves, has been adopted.

Form Is Adopted.

The form of contract is given below: The owner of the "Liberty Loan" pass book has agreed to purchase from the bank or trust company the dollar par value of the United States Government Liberty Loan Gold Bonds, and hereby agrees to pay for same at face value and accrued interest in installments within 12 months from the date hereof. Each payment shall be entitled to interest earned at the rate of the said Third Liberty Loan Bonds bear, but no payment shall draw interest prior to the date from which the bonds themselves bear interest and said interest shall be adjusted at the time of surrender of this pass book. The purchaser may complete the entire payment in less than one year and may pay at any time, except that a minimum payment of not less than 2 per cent per week must be maintained. In case an issue of bonds is made bearing a higher rate of interest, and into which the issue of bonds may be converted, the said bank or trust company may at its option exercise the conversion privilege; in which event such increased rate shall accrue to the pass book owner. If the purchaser shall become delinquent in making regular payments, the said bank or trust company reserves the right to require such payments plus or minus the amount representing the difference between the market value and the par value of the bonds. This pass book shall not be negotiable, and must be presented when payment is made. By the acceptance of this pass book the owner thereof accepts and assents to these terms and conditions.

The pass books and deposit tickets for the 46 St. Louis banks have been ordered and will be distributed to the participating banks sometime next week. The Publicity Committee is co-operating with the Publicity Committee of the Central Organization, and it has been arranged to cover the field from every angle of advertising. Special copy for street cars, factory cards, billboards, newspapers, magazines, direct-mail circulars and window cards are being prepared, so that the duty as well as the opportunity of every American citizen will be carefully brought home to the people.

Callaway County Adopts.

Not only in the large cities throughout the Eighth Federal Reserve District will the "partial payment" plan be adopted, but in smaller cities and communities as well. In Callaway County, Mo., the Bankers' Association has already appointed a committee to work out a plan suitable for the banks there. In this busy age many buy their homes, automobiles, pianos and talking machines on the installment plan. Uncle Sam says, Why not buy government bonds in this manner? We can whip the Germans with our money, but not with the money in our pockets or bank accounts. It must go into the United States treasury in subscriptions to Liberty Bonds.

To win this war quickly and decisively, it is necessary to enlist the co-operation of people of all classes and occupations, and there can be no better way to do this than by effecting a general participation in the investments by which the government will finance our fighting forces.

Will Sell Farm for Bonds.

A farm in exchange for Liberty Bonds is the offer which has been made by G. L. Campbell, a real estate dealer of Hopkinsville, Ky. Further, Campbell states positively he will not take money of the usual kind for the farm—it is Liberty Bonds or nothing.

The "Victrola Book of the Opera," new, revised and enlarged edition, just out, can be had at Koark's at the old price, $1. Every talking machine owner should have a copy, which has history, stories and scores of 120 operas, 700 illustrations and information which can be found in no other one volume, in its 553 pages.

Poultry Order Amended.

U. S. Food Administration Rule No. 14, covering poultry dealers, which prohibited "Licensees between February 1st and April 30th, 1918, purchasing, shipping, selling or negotiating the sale of any live or freshly killed hens or pullets" has been amended to end at midnight April 19th, 1918. This means, of course, that after midnight of April 19th those engaged in the poultry business can begin negotiating the purchase and sale of hens and pullets, but not before, and can only ship after that time.

We're here to help you get the best results and the most satisfaction from your talking machine, no matter what make, and our eight years' experience is freely at your command, and should be of benefit to you. The J. L. Koark Estate.

Give to the Red Cross and Army Y. M. C. A., as these are two of the most important arms of the service. People may not be able to buy bonds but everyone is able to give something to these causes.

Uncle Sam's Big Problem

Great warships are sliding off the ways; navy yards and arsenals are working night and day; great mobilization camps have sprung up as if by magic; everywhere the vast resources of the nation are being gathered together for war.

All over the Bell telephone system, thousands of employees are busily engaged in all branches of telephone activity, to keep pace with the extraordinary telephone needs of the nation. And with the increased government requirements, there will be greater demands for commercial service.

Not only is there a great scarcity of materials, but there is a similar scarcity of labor, and already many of our technically trained employees—men who cannot be replaced—have joined the colors.

As time goes on it will become continually harder to meet the demands for service from governmental and private sources—and our patrons are asked to bear this extraordinary condition in mind and to help in the maintenance of an effective service by eliminating all wasteful use of telephone lines and equipment.

Our loyal organization is working continuously to meet the increased demands and your patient co-operation will prove helpful and inspiring.

Hungarian Suspect Held at Owensboro

Charles Even, the Hungarian suspect recently arrested here by Mr. Tom Newman, and turned over to the U. It was developed at the trial that enough evidence was found to intern Even until the war is over.

A Patriotic Plea.

To the people of Muhlenberg county:

There is desperate need for economy, conservation and liberality on the part of every citizen of the county, state and nation. In the judgment of men high in authority the world over, we stand at the crisis of the world war, and every department of service is called on for the best it can give. Our sons have gone by thousands, and by thousands are going, willingly to make, if need be, the supreme sacrifice.

The American Red Cross, a most potent agent of relief and comfort to those who may be wounded in battle or sick in hospital, is in need of unlimited funds, to carry forward its work of mercy.

Encouraged by the splendid response of the miners and operators of this county, who have so cheerfully given and are giving the full returns of one day's work to this great cause, I make this appeal to every wage earner in Muhlenberg county—to give the equivalent of one day's earnings to this splendid organization, that is doing such valiant service to win the war, crush German greed and beastiality, and crush for all time the last hope of autocracy.

This appeal comes from an intimate knowledge of the needs of the Red Cross in this county, and is made to urge men and women in the county, of whatever trade, occupation or profession, and is made in full confidence of a ready response.

Let the county organize in school districts, and make a thorough canvass. Mr. V. M. Mosely, School Superintendent, is chairman of the membership committee, and will assist in the organization of this work that will give everyone an opportunity to prove his loyalty to the flag, and his willingness to stand behind the boys who have gone and are going to take their places on the battle line.

Yours for the Work,
C. W. Taylor, President,
Muhlenberg Chapter, American Red Cross.

The Victor record is given world wide recognition as the best, and your machine will play it.

It is thought that a large number of Muhlenberg soldiers are now in France, or enroute, as many of them have been sent from Camp Taylor, recently.

Red Cross Notes.

Greenville Chapter has been called on to handle another heavy special order. We will discontinue shirt making until this order is completed, and we will prove our patriotism and efficiency by getting goods to headquarters ahead of time limit.

Quite a number of Red Cross workers spent the afternoon of the eleventh with the Graham Chapter. A pleasant afternoon was spent, and twenty-seven bed shirts were made. Surgical dressings in the following amount have been shipped this week:

Two overflow audiences heard Dr. Porter at the court house Sunday afternoon and evening, both addresses being inspiring and impressive, and will result in lasting benefit to every listener. It cannot be calculated, the good he has done here.

Mr. Mc Ferguson was here from South Carrollton, Monday, to court. He reports vast operations in his section, in the matter of coal and oil development, with prospects of a boom in all lines.

E. N. Martin has opened a tailor shop in the lower room of the old hotel building, and solicits the patronage of the public under the guarantee of best service and lowest prices.

Hundreds of our people heard a selected section of Sousa's band here Tuesday afternoon, but everybody can hear the whole band, in dozens of numbers, at any time they wish, on Victor records at Roark's.

The revival services at the Baptist church closed Tuesday night, Dr. Porter being called to other work. His stay here has resulted in great good, as there have been many conversions and a general revival of religious interest.

It is at last getting time for plain talk, and no matter what the result, men who are carping, dodging and throwing cold water on our war plans should be handled just as his action demands. No one should let a slacker make untruthful or damaging statements without resenting it.

The rainfall of Monday night was a needed item, and the following warm weather has put a new face on nature, everything jumping ahead.

An Appeal to Patriotic Kentucky Towns.

To the People of every town in Kentucky:—

We are warned from Washington there is a serious food crisis ahead, for our own people, unless food production is promptly and greatly increased. There is already an acute food crisis in Italy and France. The dire needs of their people must be relieved by our Government if they are to support their brave men in the trenches. If they fail, we fail; if their lines are broken, hundreds of thousands of our boys "over there" will be slaughtered. No starved army, no starved nation can fight.

We are assured that the people of the towns of America can easily raise enough food, in yards and outlying lots to release for our hard-pressed Allies all they need. Will we do it? The answer to that question is up to the people of every American town; up to every citizen in it; up to your town and you.

There would have been a far more serious shortage in food supplies the past winter but for the increased home garden last year. But this year, they must be multiplied MANY TIMES to avert suffering here and ruin abroad.

No family of limited means can afford this year to be without a garden. Food will be hard to get in many places, at any price, for railroads and shipping will be strained as never before, to meet war needs, and foods from a distance cannot be depended on. Fortunately garden production is quick.

There are many thousands of villages, towns and cities in this country. In and about nearly every one of them there are idle lands that can be gardened and men, women, boys and girls who have the strength and can take the time to do it. In practically every one of them there are people who understand how to do it and can direct those who do not and teams, implements, manures and other needed things. Shall these vast human, land and other productive means, in and about our thousands of towns, be wasted, when the fate of our Allies, the fate of our own brave soldiers and the fate of this nation depend on the being used to produce food? The question, Mr. Hoover tells us, depends on the American people, on us and you! If the people of American towns have not got men and women intelligent enough to realize the need for action and patriotic enough to organize, on their own account, and get action and results, we may expect disaster. Shall our children and our children's children say we threw away the liberty our ancestors won for us and them?

This Committee, serving under our able, strenuous and patriotic Food Administrator, Mr. Hoover, is working without pay or funds. We have accomplished much, but can do little more than endeavor to arouse the people to the need of the hour. The patriotic townspeople of Kentucky will heed our appeal.

United States Food Administrator's War Garden Committee for Kentucky.

Charles G. Strater, Chairman.

Solicitors all over the country are turning in to Washington officials all persons who have been solicited to buy Liberty Bonds, but who have refused to do so. It is not known what action will be taken, but if some persons who are drawing handsome pensions cannot lend part of it to Uncle Sam, it would be just in our Uncle Samuel to at least stop giving to the ingrate.

Mrs. C. A. Denny is teaching a kindergarten class at her home, and has a fine bunch of children enrolled. She is a competent teacher, and the surroundings are ideal for the work, and the youngsters will receive great benefit and pleasure from their study and play.

The man who stands around and boasts his patriotism by remarking "I wish I had $10,000 to put in Liberty Bonds" does not need much credit on that, for anybody would be willing to do that. It is putting all in you possibly can, out of what you have, that really counts.

Record Sales of War Saving Stamps.

Mr. A. E. McCracken, carrier on Route No. 3, the shortest in the county and having the smallest number of patrons, has sold $2495 worth of War Saving Stamps to his customers, and this is the record in the county, to the honor of the carrier and people alike.

Good morning! Bought your Liberty Bond yet?

Liberty Loan Day a Great One.

Doubtless the greatest day in the history of Greenville, as to far-reaching importance and anticipated results, was Tuesday, our Liberty Loan rally day. It is estimated that at least 3000 people came in from all parts of the county, and everyone in town joined in the observance. It was the most orderly, sober minded crowd ever collected here, as everyone sensed the intent and were determined in purpose. Thirty members of Sousa's band arrived shortly after 1 o'clock, cars from here bringing them over, and at 1.30 the exercises were opened by the band concert. Judge John S. Rhea was in charge, and introduced Sgt. Garrard, a Kentuckian who had served with Canadian troops, and had been confined several months in a German Prison. His speech was vital, and brought home to every listener the seriousness of conditions, and the need of help from every man, woman and child if this country and the balance of the world is to be saved from German autocracy. Following this speech, Maj. McCullough, of Camp Zachary Taylor, was introduced, and his talk dealt with the activities of this government in the preparing and maintaining our forces, and what it meant to the civilian population in the matter of sacrifice and help, to keep our boys to highest point of efficiency. Both speakers addressed the crowds in the court room and on the lawn, it was a great day, and the results will be splendid.

Mr. Roy Smith left Monday morning for Indianapolis, where he will take a special course of instruction for two months under government experts in automobile mechanics. He was one of the six volunteers asked for and secured in the county.

Roark entertained hundreds of people Tuesday, who enjoyed the piano and Victrola music. Three Victrolas were sold, and stacks of records were carried home by old customers.

The annual meeting of the Kentucky Educational Association will be held in Louisville next week, and there will be no school, as practically all the teachers will be in attendance.

The house occupied by Mr. Scott Morgan's family at Central City burned about 9 o'clock last Saturday night, destroying his furniture and household goods. The cause of the fire is unknown.

Circuit Court.

The spring term of Muhlenberg circuit court convened here Monday morning, Judge John S. Rhea on the bench and Commonwealth Attorney Randolph Mallory present. Judge Rhea made a talk to the jurors, reciting the extreme needs of the country, and told them that a man in the furrow was fully as important as the man in the trench, so he dismissed the jurors, and told them to return home and attend to their private duties, which now had as much importance as any public service which might be performed. Judge Rhea is here giving attention to some equity cases.

Tomorrow and Saturday will be observed in Louisville as clean up days. This spring cleaning movement of whole towns and cities, as well as rural communities is a great and growing idea, and doing untold good in the way of improved appearance, as well as bettered health conditions. In some places it has been a paying thing in dollars and cents, for enough stuff has been collected and sold to yield a sum to be placed in a fund for some needed public use.

Dozens of Victrolas will be riding around in cars this summer, accompanying the owner on his visits, pleasure jaunts, picnics, and the like. Get yours from Roark, now, before the real rush starts, for Victrolas are always hard to get, so great is the universal demand for this supreme instrument.

GARDEN

Give more time and attention to the garden. And produce a better quality of vegetables. Rely on good seeds, good soil and good care. Devote some time each day to care of the garden. Every farmer's table should be supplied from his own home garden. Now is the time to plan your garden.

The greatest musical center in the whole world

Greater than the Metropolitan Opera House; greater than Covent Garden, where the royalty of England is entertained; greater than La Scala at Milan, the Grand Opera House of Paris, and the Royal Opera of Berlin; greater in fact than all the opera houses and places of entertainment in the world is the recording floor of Building No. 5.

To this great musical centre comes a never-ending procession of the most famous artists in the whole world. Today it may be Caruso or Amato, and tomorrow it may be Melba, Tetrassini, Sembrich, Farrar, Galski, Schumann-Heink, or Homer; or it may be several of them assembling to unite in making a masterpiece like the "Sextette from Lucia." Or it may be Paderewski, or Kubelik, or Elman, or Harry Lauder, or Blanche Ring; and then again it might be Sousa and his band, or Victor Herbert and his orchestra.

But whoever it is or whatever the organization, rest assured they are all waiting to enter your home which will become just as great a musical centre when you have a Victor or Victor-Victrola.

You can hear some of this exquisite music today. Come in and we'll gladly play your favorite selections. Victors $10 to $100. Victor-Victrolas $15 to $200. Terms to suit your convenience.

Notice, Farmers

Being desirous of assisting in any way possible in the winning of the great conflict which we are now engaged in across the waters, and realizing that if I might be instrumental in placing upon our Muhlenberg County Farms more Registered Hereford Cattle, I might be of service, I am now offering to place 20 head of Registered Hereford cows and heifers with 10 of our leading and progressive farmers of this county, upon a 5 year contract; that, is I will furnish 2 bred cows or heifers, Registered Herefords, to any progressive farmer under contract for a period of 5 years, he to keep, feed and care for same in a business like manner for a period of 5 years and to re-breed the cows each year and to keep all heifer offspring until they are 18 months of age and breed them to a Registered, Hereford Bull of no akin and I agree to give said farmer an undivided one half interest in and to all the offspring from said two cows or heifers, and I further agree to furnish a registered Bull each year to which we may breed the cows or heifers and said bull is to be Registered and of no akin to said cows or heifers, and at the end of said 5 years we will sell all the offspring from said two cows so raised during the 5 years or we will agree and divide same equally, thereby allowing the farmer to retain one half of all offspring so raised from said to cows during the 5 year period.

If, after you have read this, you are interested in this liberal proposition you may come and see me and also see my herd of Herefords and will gladly give you a more complete detail of my proposition.

KEEP YOUNG HORSE GROWING
Good Practice, When Not Carried to Excess, to Allow Colts to Tough It in Winter

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture)

Colts that are kept growing make the best horses. Many farmers allow their young horses to "rough it" through the winter and, although this is a good practice when not carried to extremes, if the feeder is not careful it may give the colt a setback which permanently retards its development.

Feeds that will promote growth should be supplied. Good, clean clover hay is palatable and slightly laxative. Timothy hay commonly is fed. Well-cured alfalfa hay free from dust is one of the best roughages for growing, but because of its relatively high protein content it generally is economical to supplement it with other roughages such as timothy, mixed hay, or corn fodder. Besides feeding various types of roughage, such as a method of feeding alfalfa would offset any likelihood of kidney or bowel irregularities. Small amounts can be used to good advantage to supplement other roughage. The animals should not be allowed to gorge themselves on dry feed. They should be given only what they will clean up readily, but at the same time enough feed should be supplied. Oats, corn and peas, properly fed ground, are suitable grains. Bran, oil meal or gluten feed will add protein and feed variety. Cottonseed meal should not be fed to foals. Appropriate grain rations for the first winter are: Two parts corn, five parts oats, three parts bran and one part oil meal; or four parts oats, one part corn and one part bran.

Slugs should not be fed to foals to any considerable extent. Stewed roots, such as carrots and sugar beets, are very palatable and have a cooling effect on the digestive system. The quantity of feed generally should be regulated by the appetite, although oc-carefully the appetite may be too sensitive to be a good indication. The general condition of the colt and the droppings should be observed daily. Usually not over one pound of grain per 100 pounds of live weight should be fed until the animal is two years old. A liberal supply of salt and good water and plenty of fresh air and exercise are essential for the proper development of young horses. Idleness succeeding exercise will cause constipation. It is often said that a horse is made during his first winter. Certainly this is a critical time in the animal's life, and at no other age will proper feed and attention do as much to make of him a good horse. If stunted during the first winter he never will gain proper size and shape.

During the second winter the feed and management should be nearly the same as for the first winter, except that the quantity of feed should be increased somewhat. The colt tied up in this stunted condition frequently. Exercise by itself and careful but firm handling of this age will save later much strenuous work.

BOAR IN PROPER CONDITION

Good Judgment Is Necessary and Extremes Are to Be Avoided—Vigor Is Essential.

It requires good judgment to keep a boar in the best possible condition. Extremes are to be avoided. The over-fat boar is not satisfactory, and a half-starved one causes legitimate alarm and constipation to its possessor.

SALT FOR SHEEP IN WINTER

When Feeding for Lamb Crop It Is Well to Remember That You Are Feeding for Wool.

Sheep need a little salt water as well as in summer. Remember that when you are feeding for the lamb crop you are also feeding for wool. Well-fed, well-maintained ewes will shear a heavy fleece.

SOW'S FEEL OF IMPORTANCE

Animal Requires Something Besides Meal—Give Her Roots, Alfalfa or Red Clover Hay.

As in the case of the boar, the sow requires something besides meal, and the farmer of some small feeds as roots, alfalfa or red clover hay, is even more important than in feeding the boar. Sows will also excel when it can be had.

IDEAL HOUSE FOR CHICKENS

Wherever Possible Building Should Have Southern Front—Fresh Air and Sunshine Help.

Plenty of fresh air and sunshine, along with freedom from drafts and dampness, are the requisites of the ideal poultry house, yet there are many poultrymen who build expensive houses for their fowls without giving a thought to the real needs of the hen. Nothing plays a more important part in regulating the condition of the house than does location. Wherever possible the house should be built on a southern slope and it is better if there is some protection, as a grove of trees, to the north. This will give the house plenty of sunlight during the greatest possible time and will also protect it from the cold winter winds.

GET EGGS AND MEAT FROM KITCHEN WASTE

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture)
In every household, no matter how economical the housewife, there is a certain amount of table scraps and kitchen waste which has feeding value, but which if not fed, finds its way into the garbage pail.

Poultry is the only class of domestic animals which is suitable for converting this waste material, right where it is produced in the city, into wholesome and nutritious food in the form of eggs and poultry meat.

Each hen in her pullet year should produce ten dozen eggs. The average size of the backyard flock should be at least ten hens. This each flock would produce in a year 100 dozen eggs, which, at the conservative value of 25 cents a dozen, would be worth $25.

By keeping a backyard poultry flock the family would not only help in reducing the cost of living but would have eggs of a quality and freshness which are often difficult to obtain.

Remember that eggs produced by the backyard flock cost very little, as the fowls are fed largely upon waste materials.

EARLY HATCHING IS DESIRED

It Will Increase Number and Size of Flocks and to Farmer It Means Much Larger Profits.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture)
To the country at large early hatching by every chicken raiser means much. Early hatching will increase the number and size of flocks and the number of eggs produced next year. It will mean bigger birds and birds that will lay in the winter months. To the backyard farmer it means more profit. He will get more chickens as a larger proportion will live; he will get more actual meat, not only because more will live but because his chickens will be larger; and he will get more eggs, when eggs are scarce, for early hatched pullets will lay in the winter.

The recognized importance of food in the present war makes it seem that the hen must take her place among those who are helping to win it for the forces of democracy. This place will be an important one in proportion to the responsiveness to the call for increased chicken and egg production. The hen, of course, always has shown a willingness to do her duty, and whenever she is willing now. All that is to be done is for her masters, the farmers of the nation and the city dwellers who are depending on a backyard scale, to make sure that the hen's opportunity will not be neglected.

ROAD BUILDING

Make Travel Quick, Safe and Easy, Clean and Comfortable—Save More Than It Costs.

Concrete roads are country beautifiers. They benefit a community in making travel quick, safe, easy, clean and comfortable. They extend neighborhood limits, bring more people into personal touch with each other, increase social opportunities and thereby remove the monotony of isolation; bring greater content to the youth on the farm, make city and country near neighbors and increase school attendance, thus cultivating a desire for a broader knowledge and higher standards of living.

Concrete roads make daily rural mail delivery a fact, every home unit in the community is put on the news wire with the political, financial, industrial and trading centers of the earth. The best thought of the world in every line of human effort and human achievement is transmitted overnight to the breakfast table of the community served by a network of concrete roads. A concrete road saves more than it costs. It is open to maximum traffic all the year round. It brings greater freedom and ease of movement in travel and transportation and permanently increases land values.

MADAM WAS ROAD REPAIRER

He Originated Method of Covering Surface of Ground With Impermeable Crust or Covering.

Just 200 years ago was born "the first of the pioneers who took up the work of scientific road building." John Macadam showed how to carry solid highways across difficult bogs, and Thomas Telford built his roads, topped with gravel, on a solid foundation of stone blocks. But the great reform of the art came in with John Loudon MacAdam, who traveled 20,000 miles over the English and Scottish roads to study the conditions and needs for himself. Discovering a new road on the landscape, he originated the method of covering the surface of the ground with an impermeable crust, cover or coating, so that water would not penetrate to the soil beneath. A road thus "macadamized" was found to glide less easily to weights pressing upon it, and could not be broken up by the action of frost. But while the inventor's fame spread his resources dwindled, and though made surveyor general of roads, he had to depend for his recompense on a parliamentary grant. MacAdam was a road repairer rather than a road builder, but his system went all over the world.

SPRING CARE OF HIGHWAYS

Go Over Road With Grader to Clean Out Ditches—Fill All Ruts With New Material.

Every spring before the ground becomes too hard the road should be thoroughly gone over with a grader to clean out the ditches, so that the water may have a free outlet. The ruts and holes should be filled, elevations in the road and shoulders on the side of the road planned off, the grade improved, and the road put in good condition.

Earth roads have a pronounced tendency to rut. When ruts begin to appear on the surface great care should be used in selecting new material, with which they should be filled immediately. One fundamental principle that is of special importance is the repair of any road is that whatever material is used in the construction of the surface, the same material—and no other—should be used in its repair. A road with a surface of clay should be repaired by using clay, a gravel road with gravel and a surface of limestone with limestone.

High Roads Protection.
The hen is rather scantily provided with hindquarters the warmer the country the less likely. Therefore, she needs protection during the storms of winter. Unless you provide it, you invite colds, influenza, lung troubles, rheumatism.

Sowing Slow Seeds.
In sowing seeds that start slowly, as parsnips, celery, etc., it is well to sow with them a few strong, quick germinating seeds to break the crust and mark the rows so that cultivation may begin early.

Meadowville, Ky.—Mrs. Cynthia Higginbotham, of this town, says: "At my age, which is 65, the liver does not act so well as when young. A few years ago, my stomach was all out of fix.
